Review of: "OpenAI ChatGPT Generated Content and Similarity Index: A study of selected terms from the Library & Information Science (LIS)"

Ronald Snijder

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper discusses a very simple question: will AI generated text be flagged as plagiarism by the tool Turnitin. The answer is: no. While this is an interesting fact, that may be useful when determining whether a text has been automatically generated, the implications are not clear. It would have been helpful if the authors would have elaborated what the results actually mean. Furthermore, there is no discussion about whether the produced texts were factual or not, which is another important aspect.