

Review of: "A Dataset of Small-Mammal Detections in West Africa and Their Associated Micro-Organisms"

Dilara Karaman¹

¹ Yildiz Technical University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In this paper,

Conceptualization is well designed.

Methodology is seem as sufficient for this research.

The usage of R programming and depicted scripts are available but they would be better if they had given in supplementary material.

Results and Discussion are lack and supplementary materials are not clear to read or understand.

A brief table containing hosts and pathogens should be given in the text not in the Supplementary Material.

Note: It is seem to me as if references are very reduced. I have expected more references when I looked at the length of Supplementary material.