The article discusses important topic, and the results can be of great significance, if the researcher revised the following:

1. Updated published studies to strengthen its significance (the most recent publication is 2015).
2. Missing a theoretical/ conceptual framework
3. Extensive and updated literature review (2019 and above)
4. Missing implications at the end of the study and this part is important at it shows how this study can inform pedagogical practices.
