This is a very well-thought-out and researched review dealing with complex topics. One addition might be a discussion on George Engel and the biopsychosocial model in healthcare and medicine. On that note, bioethicist and philosopher Diane O'Leary makes important contributions in this regard in her academic writings and as well in this interview on Psychiatric Times:

"When we see mind and body as one, we are reductionists—but reductionism is the problem that Engel sets out to fix".... Aftab, Awais. The Case for Dualism in Medicine—Philosophical Misunderstandings and Clinical Implications: Diane O'Leary, PhD. Psychiatric Times. July 20, 2023. Vol. 40, No. 7
