

Review of: "Enhancing Veterinary Services for Smallholder Farmers in Zimbabwe: A Comprehensive Literature Review"

Woudi von Solms

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper highlights a very important issue and the article clearly identify the possible problems and possible solutions. There are certain paragraphs that are without references and references in certain paragraphs that do not occur in the reference list. Including those references will increase the viability of the study. What makes this literature review so interesting is that it clearly identifies a problem. It will be interesting to see what future research, that aim to implement processes and structures to solve the problem, will yield.