

Review of: "Tourists' Activities and their Impacts on Chinhoyi Caves Heritage Site, Zimbabwe"

Cristina Lupu¹

¹ West University of Timisoara

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

"But what exactly do tourists do at these attractions and/or destinations that have made it essential for UNESCO to promulgate laws to conserve heritage sites?" - is this a research question? Then, it should be moved to the methodology section.

Section 1.1 section should be named "Literature Review" and afterwards the subsection "Tourist activities" might be split up in two sections, so you can think of a subsection in which relates the forms of the tourist activities in a natural destination.

Objective 1 - "To establish the various tourist activities at heritage sites;" - better to "outline".

The Research methods section should be extended and describe how was the data coded, how Atlas.ti works; please name the themes. How would you define the "interview guide"? describe the method, what are the socio-demographic characteristics of the respondents?

The Conclusion section should be improved by emphasizing again the results, the novelty of the paper, does the paper have limitations? Which are the theoretical and practical implications of the study?

A strong English proofreading is needed.