An interesting report of almost complete recovery after previous spinal cord injury. My comments are as follows:

1. operative pictures are not clear. they need to be clearer and have labelling to enable proper appreciation of the different structures shown.
2. english and spell checks are required.
3. this is an anecdotal report. more reports of spinal cord repair need to be quoted in the reference section. a tabulation or collection of these reports might be illustrative of their rarity and therefore enhance the uniqueness of the report.
4. Possible theories of regeneration can be touched upon with references when feasible.
