Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The abstract content should be expressed more clearly and concisely. The punctuation after 'Keep your IoT devices updated' in line 13 of the summary is incorrect.
2. The citation of references is relatively old, and there have been relatively few references used in the past 5 years; Meanwhile, the references are not labeled and are not clearly cited in the article.
3. The research method of the article is not significantly compared to traditional research methods, and lacks innovation.
4. The article contains more text and less graphic and textual expressions, resulting in a lower understanding of the article.
