

Review of: "A Narrative Review on the Management of Severe COVID-19 Infection Using Stem Cell-based therapies with a Focus on the Registered Clinical Trials"

Marija Petrushevska¹

¹ St.Cyril and Methodius University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Good concept for the paper, targeting new therapies and formulations in the management of this disease. Authors might consider removing Fig 1, since it is already well known and published elsewhere, moreover, it is well presented in the Introduction section. Elaborate in more detail on the need for writing such a review. There are several typos and misplaced uses of subscript - especially in the partial pressure. They might want to consider using an English proofreader.