Though this study has a lot of possibilities, the author needs minor editing in the manuscript.

1. Kindly mention the name of the standard used for the ferric-reducing antioxidant assay.
2. Please describe the positive and negative controls that are employed to measure antibacterial activity.
3. To improve comprehension of the findings and statistical analyses, tables ought to be well planned and arranged.
4. Which reference did the MBC procedure use?
5. In case of writing, kindly cite works published in current, respected periodicals.
