The manuscript is interesting and well written. I just have some minor corrections to suggest:

- The first paragraph of the results section must be revised because there is not a single reference on it.
- In the paragraph in which the study of Yannakoulia et al. (2018) is described, change the term "arms" for "groups". In addition, include the date that the work was published.
- In the paragraph that describes the work of Pankova et al., the date it was published is also missing. In addition, the sentence that starts with "13 patients" must be revised. It is not recommended to start a sentence with a number.
- In the sentence "Diabetic smokers are also at an increased risk of central obesity secondary to smoking's anti-estrogenic effects", there is no reference. Where did you find this information? Could you please explain with more detail these anti-estrogenic effects of smoking? Are you thinking about estrogen's metabolic effects?
