

Review of: "Toxicological evaluation of aqueous extracts of Clematis hirsuta and Rhamnus prinoides"

Million Loha¹

¹ St. Paul's Hospital Millennium Medical College

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It better to conduct toxicological evaluation of medicinal plants on animal model by administrating the extract with different level of dose, that is what good thing I have seen in this research. My major comment is on the duration of administration. It would be good to know detailed toxicity with longer period of administration like sub chronic or chronic level of study.