Dear Editor,

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to review the article.

For the article under review, I wrote some valuable comments for enhancing the text and some language corrections in the attached copy of the manuscript. The authors must implement all these corrections carefully if they want to enhance their text.

For example of notes: In the paragraph "On the dependence of heat capacity", the commas and conjunctions should be reconsidered. The rest can be found in the attached manuscript. Overall, the authors should enhance their method of writing and reconsider the whole text (This is mandatory).
