

Review of: "Procurement Planning & the Rwanda Biomedical Centre (RBC)"

Cheick Omar Diallo¹

¹ Université de Ouagadougou

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Statement of the problem

The stage is well set with a description of existing general practices, an overview of difficulties referring to the gap that the study wishes to fill in terms of purchasing planning and procurement practices for good performance.

But perhaps some concrete examples of inconsistencies in procurement planning might help the reader to better follow your explanatory approach.

Cost estimation for forecasting in procurement

Maybe define for the first time the meaning of PPOA followed by its abbreviation.

Same suggestion for PPDA and for : GDP, I guess Gross Domestic Product.

Methodology

In the rest of the study, I didn't see the use of a regression model to analyze the relationship between variables? What did you actually test? Colinearity? Statistics? Which variables? I think it would be a good idea to clarify this.

Study population and sampling

Very nice description of sampling