The work is very interesting; however, it has some aspects to consider.

The entry wording must be reviewed. I suggest that the article be reviewed by a native English speaker. For example, "Kranz, Nadarevic and Erdfelder (2019)." should be changed to: "Kranz, Nadarevic, and Erdfelder (2019)."

The contents of each section must be reordered to facilitate reading, according to international standards: introduction, methods, results, and discussion.

The work is very extensive. It is necessary to reduce its length.

It should be written as a scientific article and not as a book or book chapter, according to international standards: introduction, methods, results, and discussion.
