Dear author

Thanks for submitting your valuable manuscript in this journal.

I have some recommendations for your manuscript.

1- the manuscript should be reviewed by a native english speaker.

2- you review some contraindications of IPC but also miss of them for example using this device in patient with open wound, patient with skin graft or flap at the site of compression

3- in the introduction section you should mention the mechanism of IPC and then discuss about indications and contraindications of using IPC in different situations.as you said in metastatic disease that neoangiogenesis can increase the risk of disease progression, in the other situation you should discuss on the basis of mechanism
