While the topic of the paper is interesting, several observations which can contribute to improve quality of the paper:

- the paper structure should be stated in the introduction;
- the paper has "loose" structure for the scientific paper - opinion would be better match
- proper literature review is missing;
- the research methodology, hypothesis, data should be identified and analyzed;
- the paper is too vague in analysis, but drawing conclusions without solid base;
- both reference sections (references, other references) are very outdated (most of the references are 10+, 20+ years, ... from the past).
