I think you have to increase the amount of literature reviewed, because with only 18 articles, it seems that it is still not enough to generalize to such a broad theme. It would be better if the presentation used tables to facilitate the organization of the results of the review of the selected literature.

Next, make sure that the literature source comes from a reputable journal, indexed by a trustworthy indexing institution. I see from the 18 references you cited, some are sourced from Google searches and not from scientific journals. Of course, this will reduce the credibility of the article you are now writing.

Finally, your conclusion is too long, so it is similar to the discussion. We recommend that the conclusion be 1–2 paragraphs that can conclude the findings of your research. Thank you.
