Peeled/Delaminated Material

National Cancer Institute

Source

Peeling or delamination of composite materials, including coatings, that occurs when layers are separated as a result of stress or impact and resulting in loss of mechanical toughness.