References can be more , recently few systemic review have been published of particular note is from NEJM and BMC , they should be incorporated in the text . In the abstract little bit of historical importance can be added to justify the word reemergence. In the introduction part about COVID19 the total count is from site “Worldometer” only . The authors could use another website like WHO for global update .

Few more references about the role of prompt capacity building , case definition for screening and public etiquette should be incorporated to make the letter more meaningful in my humble opinion .
