

Review of: "An experience of global higher education and university autonomy in Viet Nam: A case study of Ton Duc Thang University in Ho Chi Minh City"

Anh Tai Do

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This paper provided a good overview of TDT University in terms of global higher education, however in terms of autonomy university still limited information. Please discuss in more detail and provide more evidence concerning autonomy in TDT, possibly the authors can compare to other university forms in Vietnam with the autonomy in TDT University. The data and many numbers are from 2019, so the discussion might be outdated. It is better to provide up-to-date information. The information from the survey is not clear in which time? 2019? Or 2023? So please indicate the period. Please also clarify the statement "Some universities in Vietnam now have the ability to host foreign researchers and students at their campus to conduct research in collaboration with local staff or to study via exchange programs." This is due to their capacity to host foreign people, not because of the policy not allow to host foreign people.