Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The aim of this review is not clear. The template of the manuscript is chaotic, as many times basic information is repeated. Moreover, this paper does not present new information, as all this characteristics of S. pyogenes are well and sufficiently described in Textbooks of internal medicine and Microbiology.
2. New diagnostic procedures have arisen, but there are no comments on them
3. Quality of English needs correction
4. Instead of information about agar and M protein, new aspects about anti-toxin treatment, vaccination and other current treatment strategies should had been mentioned
