The review's content is good. However, there is also a need to consider the following:

1. Add more theoretical background to support one or more of the six factors addressed in this study.
2. How did the author(s) come up with the review without clearly stating the processes (materials and methods)? State it clearly.
3. Re-arrange the paper and make it look like a review paper rather than a project/thesis/dissertation.

However, the author(s) did well in providing relevant information. Consider this as MINOR CORRECTIONS.

Good job and accept my best regards.
