

Review of: "Diversity and Inclusion for Innovation-Led Growth"

Harshit Kumar Srivastava¹

¹ Jaipuria Institute of Management

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article emphasizes on the importance of diversity and inclusion in higher education system as it is very significant from the 'innovation' point of view. Innovation is one of the major driver of economic development of a country. Indian economy is growing at a rapid pace and it is expected to reach 50 trillion dollar economy by 2050; in lights of that the present article becomes very relevant and it explains well in detail the importance of diversity and inclusion to drive innovation with the ultimate objective of socio-economic development.