

Review of: "Contraindications to Intermittent Pneumatic Compression: Between Lines of Recommendations"

Luca Massarenti

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is interesting but it must be shortened and refined to “get to the point”. I agree with other reviewers that the strenght of the affirmations must be graded, when available (1A, 11B Etc.)

Devices, protocols, pressures, zones of application may be different and all have to be mentioned to make a proper comparison.