

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Intrahepatic Route of Administration

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Intrahepatic Route of Administration. NCI Thesaurus. Code C38248.

Intrahepatic route of drug administration is a method of drug delivery within the liver, predominantly via hepatic vein or artery. Regimen might be more beneficial than systemic one by delivering a higher dose of drug to the liver and reducing overall systemic exposure.