

Review of: "Study of four families of the suborder Brachycera (Insecta: Diptera)"

Suprakash Pal

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. There is repetition of statements in the introduction part which should be avoided.
2. The methodology of data compilation is acceptable in spite of its limitations.
3. As this is a general piece of work, the descriptions should be worldwide (sub head 3.3...why is taxonomy restricted to Costa Rica?)
4. The organization of the descriptions could have been better. The same type of information has been provided haphazardly under different subheads.
5. Sub head 5: should be written as 'Family Lauxaniidae'
6. The whole article should be reorganized by maintaining a uniformity of information provided under different subheadings, avoiding repetitions.