Dear authors,

The article is well written and well presented.

Further improvement can be made in this version of the article. First of all, the no. of articles considered is less. The statistics of the considered articles are not given(e.g. Journal, year, country etc.) . In Results section you should present the inter-relations among articles discussed. Statistical visualization of data and techniques should be added. You also present the challenges and barriers of BT implementation on EV.
