

Review of: "Haematological and Biochemical Patterns in the Liver Function of a Syrup Made From Vitex Doniana Fruit"

Rashida Bashir<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Education

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript focused on haematological and biochemical patterns in the liver function of a syrup made from Vitex doniana fruit. The science/chemistry behind the research project is commendable, and the article is strongly recommended for publication.