The idea itself is good. The authors have done a great job in pitching the issue and summarizing the results. However, there are slight changes required to make it an improved version

1. Authors need to discuss in detail, what was already done and how their study is unique in terms of entrepreneurship literature
2. Theoretical lens is missing. The authors need to related their research idea/ framework with some theory and then discuss what they have added in body of knowledge
3. The whole data collection procedure is missing and it required details on how authors collected data? how they eliminated biasness in data collection?
4. Practical implications for policy makers and decision makers need to be specific for particular industry
