The research deals with an innovative idea, but researchers must develop the work to be ready for publication as the following:

1. Please clearly define the purpose of your research.
2. Please focus on the data used in the analysis.
3. It would be best to improve the graphs' quality and clarity.
4. A section that contrasts the proposed research with previous studies and highlights any shortcomings in those studies should be included.
5. It is best to suggest some innovative algorithms to improve your research work.
