

Review of: "Teaching Patterns in Technological Curricula"

Muralidhar Kurni

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Include an 'Introduction' section and ensure that the introduction clearly outlines the objectives, scope, and significance of the study performed in the manuscript.

The structure of the manuscript should be logical, with a clear progression of ideas from introduction to conclusion.

Present the results of the study/analysis performed in a structured and coherent manner.

If applicable, consider including comparative analyses.

References are insufficient. Include recent references. Properly cite all sources and references used in the manuscript, ensuring consistency and adherence to the chosen citation style.

Address any gaps that the study may have identified.

Summarize the key findings concisely.