

Review of: "In Silico Investigation of Potential COVID-19-Associated MicroRNA Signatures"

Xu-guang Guo

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Overall, this is a well-conducted bioinformatics study that identifies a potential microRNA signature for COVID-19 worthy of further experimental validation. With some additional discussion on limitations, this paper would be suitable for publication after minor revisions.