This is an important article . I would like to thank the author!

- However, the abstract portion is too short and is the just same as the first para of 'Introduction'
- In Introduction d) and again d) is written
- DSM-V should be replaced with DSM- 5
- In 4. few lines on Downs syndrome could be mentioned as it is a commonly found neurodevelopmental disorder in children.
- I couldn't find Table 3 (no tables were there) mentioned in 5.1
- References are there at the end; but it was not written in the text.I think it is very important.
- there is duplication of the word 'neuroenfirmary (what is the meaning?) etc in the conclusion part.

This article can be published with minor correction.
