I've gone through the whole manuscript, and it is well organized and structured with all the content of the title. I hope this research will contribute to the future planning of West Bengal. There are some minor clarifications to improve the manuscript

1. Challenges addressed in agricultural development: Can you please add details on the relevant initiatives in the Introduction part of the manuscript?
2. In the methodology section, please provide step-by-step details for the calculation of indexes and also add the limitations/assumptions related to these techniques.
3. Authors must add the opinions from the local stakeholders for detailing and discussion.
4. Authors must add a recommendation section with the detailed way forward for the experts and policies
