

Review of: "Building a digital republic to reduce health disparities and improve population health in the United States"

TILEMACHOS KOLIOPOULOS

Potential competing interests: The author(s) declared that no potential competing interests exist.

- Authors should update and validate references;
- Authors should check typos;
- Discuss more the results found in relation to references within text;
- Edit properly the abstract of this work, focused on importance of this work for the world scientific community as well as perspectives for future social policies and research;
- Edit properly and insert the most relevant keywords;
- Edit text properly adding more references and update them in terms of social policies, hypotheses to improve health, providing key social goods that are needed for support and create social motivations to socially disadvantaged populations.[1][2][3][4]; " add more than realtive 4 references, validate and update them, moderate and update the references properly for the indroduction as well as the methodology of this work;
- Edit properly relevant information in the Conclusion of this work;
- Add relative updates in references and validate them for the current high-impact work (2017-2022);
- Add suggestions for future research scholars and tools for improvements in future effective social health policies for all , add in text as well as in conclusions relative material of what is expected for the future of this work, it is worth commenting to highlight the importance of this work for the social cohesion, social progress in relation to develop proper digital tools for a good prgress in society and future research relative ontologies that will supoort your work and help also the World Scientific Community to facilitate your findings for the social health progress under current particular global circumstances.