

Review of: "Effective and Efficient Ways of Executive Development for Corporates in Fast-Developing Countries"

Prof. Naglaa Fathy El Dessouky¹

¹ University of Bahrain

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare. No conflict of interest to declare.

The research paper investigated an important topic related to the training activities for the corporate executives and employees at various organizations in fast-developing countries. It succeeded to demonstrate the planning process of a training program for the purpose to propose an effective and efficient training practices for the executives and employees. Nevertheless, the research methodology would be better elaborated by identifying the population and sample as well as the variables of the study.