

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Duane retraction syndrome

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Duane retraction syndrome. ORPHA:233

Duane retraction syndrome (DRS) is a congenital form of strabismus characterized by horizontal eye movement limitation, globe retraction and palpebral fissure narrowing in attempted adduction. It is caused by a failure of development of the abducens nerve and can lead to amblyopia.