

Review of: "Cloud-based geospatial services for building capacity and safeguarding heritage in climatically marginal landscapes"

Alfredo Satyanaga¹

¹ Nazarbayev University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The study by the Authors is comprehensive and it will benefit the other researchers. The authors present five automated workflows designed for use in Google Earth Engine. Each workflow is explained properly. The results are discussed appropriately too. One suggestion for the Authors is related to validation of the results. It is good to have clearer presentation on the validation of the results to provide higher confidence level on the results from the study