Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. 'Revisiting the poorest in India' section needs more data and information to establish the argument.
2. Marginality is not clearly defined in the article. Few more conceptual definitions such as marginalization, exclusion, diversity and intersectionality are needed to include.
3. Methodology of the study is not clear.
4. Authors can add a theoretical framework to improve the quality of the article.
5. Lack of information for findings and discussion section.
