Errors are highlighted in the paper and details are as given below:

- Entire paper must be uniform in all respects to improve the readability like line spacing, font size, font type, justified, ...
- Entire paper and references are left justified and must be justified to improve the readability.
- Many headings are given as the last line on the page and must be given on the next page.
- Acronyms like NGINX, UDP, KVM, ... must be expanded when first time used as Printed Circuit Board (PCB).
- Typographical errors noticed like "Conclusion" instead of "Conclusions."
- References are not in proper format.

Paper may be accepted for publication after incorporating the suggested modifications.
