

Review of: "Women In Slum Risking Their Safety To Access And Usage Of Basic Water And Sanitation Facilities"

Satarupa Bandyopadhyay

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The researchers have bring out a very crucial issue which is appreciable.
2. Abstract was comprehensive.
3. Literature survey was also comprehensive, but style of reporting should have been done more carefully. Most of the studies seemed to be basically case studies done in particular places, but the reporting suggested generalisation of results.
4. Research question should be mentioned specifically.
5. Researchers used PRISMA to identify relevant papers which is very good. But researchers merely summed up the factors identified by the studies reviewed in the analysis. No discussion on limitations of the methodologies used in these studies were found. Literature review requires the evaluation of the papers in terms of sampling method, data analysis, methodologies used etc.
6. In conclusion and suggestions also, mere summing up the findings and suggestions of the previous studies will not add any value. Researchers should find research gap and suggest scopes of research here.
7. Overall language was lucid and easily comprehensible.