

Review of: "Honorary Authorship in Biomedical Journals: The Endless Story"

Waqar Ali Shah<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Mehran University of Engineering & Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article highlights an important issue that exists in the academia globally. It is a global phenomenon and widely found in almost all disciplines. However, the article is too short in its arguments. It can be further developed and supported by literature. Moreover, some guidelines to stop this honorary authorship should be proposed as this like predatory publishing is a menace in the academia resulting in exploitation of the young researchers.