The article is well-written and easy to understand.

One suggestion for improvement is to mention the prevalence of non-communicable diseases (NCDs) among non-PLHIV in the introduction, to indicate the seriousness of the problem among PLHIV.

The method description is clear but could be more concise.

Discussion: The reference 47 (Chiwandire et al., 2021) appears to be more in line with Zungu's article (Zungu et al., 2019). It is suggested to either change the reference or adjust the text accordingly.
