

Review of: "A Review of Informal Employment Research"

Syed Naimul Wadood¹

¹ University of Dhaka

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper is very interesting in the sense that it has made a good review of existing literature.

The paper needs to address some research question(s). The introductory discussions need to focus more building up the focus or research question of the paper. The discussion has to focus on specific areas for study, for example, say, "review of literature on female informal sector employment in the developing countries". Some readers may find this paper slightly out of focus and too broad in discussion.