

Review of: "Pain Assessment and Management in Children at Lusaka Children's Hospital: Nurses' Experiences - A Qualitative Study"

Jae Woo Oh<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Konyang University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In the case of pediatric pain management, it would be good if it was modified and reflected in consideration of the following favorites as a subject that may have difficulties with the characteristics of children. A detailed explanation of the subjects who participated in the study is required, and it is thought that additional explanations are needed for the results of the questionnaire. It is considered necessary to explain the process of deriving research results through focus groups and the process for deriving the final four themes. In addition, based on the research results through focus groups and survey results, it is thought that it is necessary to present specific directions for pediatric pain management.