The article is clear and well-written. However, some improvement could be provided.

1. The state-of-the-art is in average more than 5 years old.
2. In the introduction there is missing a clear need of such consensus, as there are references that worked on that direction.
3. In the introduction it would be relevant to include those research questions that motivated the survey.
4. The discussion/conclusion is missing an analysis of the answer towards future trends.
