

Review of: "Unlocking Natural Capital in the Megadiverse Colombian Pacific Basin: Navigating Challenges and Governance Gaps"

Bhagwan Ghute

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript entitled "Unlocking Natural Capital in the Megadiverse Colombian Pacific Basin: Navigating Challenges and Governance Gaps" provides a comprehensive analysis of the challenges and governance gaps that hinder the sustainable management of natural capital in the Colombian Pacific Basin. The manuscript highlights the importance of natural capital in the region, which is home to one of the most diverse ecosystems in the world. The authors have provided insightful recommendations to address the challenges and governance gaps, including improving coordination among different government agencies, promoting community-based conservation initiatives, and implementing policies to incentivize sustainable practices. Overall, this manuscript is a valuable contribution to the field of conservation and sustainable development, and its recommendations can inform policy and decision-making processes in the region.