The following are some important points to consider for revising the manuscript:

- The title of the manuscript should be revised to "Factors impact Stock Prices: An ARDL Model Approach" to better reflect the content, which includes variables such as inflation and oil prices.
- The abstract should provide a clear overview of the objectives, methodology, results, and policy suggestions.
- The introduction needs to be improved by providing adequate motivation, goals, methodology, and highlights of the manuscript. The current review of the literature is not necessary.
- The methodology section should include testing of models and research hypotheses, such as correlation matrix, unit root tests, cointegration test, etc.
- The results of the correlation table should be supplemented with p-values to assess statistical significance.

Overall, The manuscript needs major revision.
