Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Based on what elements have you determined these three types of learners: active, passive, and self-directed? Activity in the LMS, in class, etc.

Regarding the methodology, you have indicated that you used "a broad and representative sample of children". Could you please indicate the number of students who participated in the study?

Results: Some of the results can be represented in tables, avoiding repeating sections.

The study is generally well done. In my opinion, it would be more complete if it provided specific numerical data in all the phases carried out. Number of studied students, interviewed parents, teachers, etc.
